

BY JACK & MIZE.

There is to be a test of the civil rights law in Cole county. A colored barber of Mattoon refused to shave a colored man, and hence the suit.

We had the pleasure of meeting Hon. A. E. Stevenson, of Bloomington, assistant postmaster-general, who spent a few hours in the city yesterday. He will return to Washington on Saturday, having spent the past ten days looking after private business.

The Republican says "Clear Water—Give Thanks!" Do not give thanks, however, till we get the clear water. Our people have shown a wondrous degree of patience in not rebelling against the payment of water tax, for such water as has been served to them. It is to be hoped that we will have clear water, and then all "give thanks."

The state revenue commission and State Board of Equalization are each striving to arrange for smoking out tax dodgers. The former will recommend as a means of preventing the alleged investment in U. S. bonds on the first day of May, that persons claiming to hold such bonds, shall list them by their numbers. This would prevent two or more men laying claim to the same bonds, which neither of them in reality ever saw. It will also be recommended that every tax payer be required to list the amount of property insured. Also, to strike out all perjury or oaths, and to put a money penalty for failing to list property.

The Washington Post says: "It is an amusing coincidence that on the very day that Senator Hear was harranging the Massachusetts republicans upon the terrible condition of the southern negroes under democratic rule a state convention of colored men assembled at Lynchburg, Virginia, which congratulated their race upon the prospects for the future and formally declared that 'we have cause to be thankful for the liberality of the present national administration to our people in the south.' This Lynchburg gathering is a most hopeful sign of the spread of intelligence among the blacks. The chairman, in his opening address, said they had not assembled as republicans or democrats, but as citizens of Virginia, claiming the right of freemen, and the address, which was adopted, embodied this spirit in a declaration of political independence and a recommendation that the colored people in future 'make such political alliances as will most advantage our interests, educationally, financially, and politically.' The address expresses entire confidence that there is a general disposition on the part of the white people in Virginia to accord the blacks all their rights before the law, and to assist them in the uplifting of their race, and the convention is the most effective answer to the bloody-shirt agitators which could possibly be framed."

The question of the proper lighting of our city, is one which is pressing upon the council, and it should be met in a deliberate, business-like way. Decatur is too large a city to go in darkness, yet we have no money to throw away on experiments. The city is not properly lighted. This, all will admit. This applies to the central parts of the city as well as the outskirts. Even the best lighted parts do not have lamp posts closer than about four hundred feet. If we are to light with gas, we must have more posts in every part of the city, and we should have them at once. But if gas is not to be the light of the future, if in a few months there is to be a general demand for the electric light as the best light to be had for street lighting, the time to adopt it in Decatur is now, before any more money is spent for lamp posts that will soon be thrown away. The day of the council in the matter is plain. If from all the information that can be obtained, the electric light is to be the light of the future, they should arrange to secure it, and in such a way that the city will not be footing any of its cost. Mr. McDonald is now in the city representing an electric light company. If his company has faith in the future of its light, it can put it in on such terms to the city as to insure its final purchase. But if there is to be any experimenting, the city should not do it. It should be a perfect system of lighting.

The Beauty of Youth. No matter how handsome or how young a man may be, nothing can take up for a permanently bad head. Shining talents are attractive, but a shining head is not. The cause may be neckties or anything else, yet Parker's Hair Balsam will stop the loss of the hair and start a new growth of glossy and soft hair so quickly as to surprise you. It is the best remedy for the hair. Only standard druggists sell it.

—Bower & Leer will move their washing machine and ironing board factory to-day to the blacksmith shop on the Mound, where they will be found in the future.
—The soldiers' home commission has not been heard from lately. Decatur people are still in good hopes. If a good location is all that is needed, Decatur will get the home.

—Bro. Swallow, of the Pana Palladium, has contracted for a new Cotton & Babcock power press, and considerable additional printing material.

—Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Mr. Ellis Armstrong and Miss Mamie Wood, of Decatur, and to Mr. Thomas F. Wheeler and Miss Carrie Nicky, of Oakley.

—A young man at the depot had a longing to get some fine sheep being shipped north over the Central yesterday afternoon, but hardly had enough nerve to do it for fear they would bite him.

—Stats Superintendent Nash has called a meeting of county superintendents to be held in this city on the 16th and 17th of next month, at the office of County Superintendent John Trainer.

—The biggest part of the St. Louis Veiled Prophets is said to be on paper. The Future Great should get some other attraction. The prophets are growing old, and their prophecies are unreliable anyway.

—Mr. D. M. Adams, who lives near Argenta, has attended many neighboring county fairs during the past few weeks, and has exhibited his fine herd of Jersey cattle, which always took the blue ribbon.

—The guards met at the armory last evening and drilled for an hour or more. Some of the boys do not take much stock in the militia until encampment time rolls around and there is a prospect for a little jam-boree.

—The stale joke about the man putting up the stove pipe, is worn out, and should be retired to private life. In this age a man prefers to hire one who understands the business to do the work, rather than do it himself.

—On Tuesday Judge Greer married Wm. Burgess and Miss Rachel Martin, of Blue Mound. The groom was about twenty-five years of age and the bride was but fifteen. Her nearest relative, an uncle, gave his consent to the union.

—Engineer George Loring has commenced the construction of a filter at the water works, which will cost about five hundred dollars when completed. It is hoped that with the new filter we can get a little more water and less mud to drink.

—People interested or in sympathy with the Irish cause should meet at the court house this evening with the Irish Aid association recently organized here. Hon. James M. Graham will address the meeting and explain the condition and affairs of Ireland.

—The annual state convention of the Young Men's Christian association meets at Galesburg to-day. The opening address will be delivered this evening by Dr. E. P. Goodwin, of Chicago. A number of prominent members of the local association will attend.

—The case of Danley, the Lincoln music dealer, will come up in the Logan county circuit court this morning, but his attorneys have made no effort to get ready for trial, and the case will doubtless be continued. In that event Danley will endeavor to give bail.

—The earnings of the Illinois Central for September show an increase of $21,238 over the same month of last year. The Central's engines may look like tea-kettles and the passenger coaches like sock cars, but the earnings always make a favorable showing and no mistake.

—Walter Stockley was the victim of a pleasant surprise at his home on West Wood street on Tuesday evening, which was arranged and carried to successful issue by Lou Magee and Annie Conroy. Refreshments were served, and the usual games and other amusements were indulged in.

—Saturday evening Flora Moore will appear at the opera house in "A Drummer in Petticoats," supported by a good company. The star has made a wide reputation as "Teddy" in "A Bunch of Keys," and her new play is said to fit her peculiarities exactly. Prices 35, 50 and 75 cents. Seats now on sale at Cart's.

—A farmer from Blue Mound struck W. T. Dillehunt's buggy on Water street yesterday afternoon, while driving along, and overturned it, throwing a lady to the ground, but luckily did not injure her. It was an accident and the farmer expressed himself willing to pay for any damage he may have been the cause of.

—The Brotherhood of Railroad Brakemen will give their first annual ball at the Guard's armory, on Friday evening, October 9th. The opera house orchestra will furnish music, and a general invitation is extended to the public to attend. Admission, one dollar. Good order assured, and a fine time is promised those who attend.

—Married, at the residence of the bride's parents, at Oakley, Illinois, on Tuesday, October 6, 1885, by Rev. J. R. Locke, Mr. Frank Baker to Miss Ruthie Fisher, both of Oakley. There were a large number of friends and relatives present to enjoy the occasion, a splendid dinner was served, the couple were the recipients of numerous useful and valuable presents, and "all went merry as a marriage bell."

—Some amusement was created for the passengers bound for the depot yesterday afternoon, on a car on East North street. A tipsy gentleman, who had just paid his fare, suddenly discovered that he had forgotten something, and not wishing to disturb the driver, proceeded to get off without ringing the bell. He wasn't "onto" the way to jump from a moving car, and leaped in the opposite direction from which it was running. As a matter of course as soon as his feet struck the ground, he commenced turning back somersaults very much against his will.

—E. C. Reese, at sportsmen's headquarters, on North Main street, is putting upon the market something entirely new in roller skates. It is known as the Decatur Spring skate, which does away with the use of rubber for springs.

For the rubber, a steel spring is substituted, that does not wear out, and if it ever breaks a new one will be given in place. This skate is a Decatur invention and is manufactured here. Mr. Reese asks for it a fair trial, and is willing to put it in competition with any and all of what has heretofore been considered the best makes. Lovers of skating should try the Tucker Spring skate. See the ad. which shows the skate.

Proceedings of the Fourth Day, Judge James F. Hughes Presiding.

There was but little business transacted in the circuit court yesterday, nearly the entire time being consumed in hearing the case of Rufus A. Eishbaugh vs. John M. and Homer Moffett. Judge W. B. Nelson and Mills Bros. were the opposing attorneys in the suit.

CHANCERY.

William M. Chance et al vs Frank McGuire and Nora McGuire—partition. Decree pro confesso as to Frank McGuire, and C. O. Clark appointed guardian ad litem for minor defendants. An answer being filed to be referred to master.

COMMON LAW.

Rufus A. Eishbaugh vs John M. Moffett and Homer Moffett, appellants—appeal. Trial by jury pending.

Helen Bunzel vs Anna Hahn and August Hahn—trespass on the case. Demurrer to declaration. Dismissed as to August Hahn and demurrer overruled.

Sarah J. Banks, administratrix, etc., vs The City of Decatur—trespass on the case. Demurrer to declaration.

George Brown vs Indianapolis, Decatur & Springfield railroad company et al—trespass on the case. Demurrer to declaration.

Frederick Aholtz vs Edward O. Smith and Isaac V. Goltz—assumpsit. Defendant justifies and rule to answer by second Wednesday discharge. Leave to amend declaration.

In Fine Clothing!!!

They all acknowledge that Parker takes the lead and now defies the competition of any first-class house in the state. Third-class workmen are ignored. Call and examine at hand some and fine a line of goods as can be found in the larger cities.

Poor Pants Cutters

Learn many systems, but Veale, the glove-fitting pants cutter, has just returned from the east with a full line of goods. And lovers of good-fitting pants will do well to call on James Veale, French Cutter from Cork, Prairie street, New Ulrich block.

JOHN C. MARK, Scribe.

John Raddock's Funeral.

The funeral of the late John C. Raddock took place yesterday afternoon at half past three o'clock from the Baptist church and was largely attended. By the time of the hour of the service, the church was entirely filled with the friends and relatives of the deceased, who came to pay the last sad tribute of respect to the departed. The host and she dealers closed their stores and with the traveling men of Decatur attended the funeral in a body. Members of the different Odd Fellow lodges were present, wearing the regalia of the order. Rev. Dr. Vorseburg preached the funeral sermon and paid a glowing tribute to the life of the deceased. He chose for his text the fourth verse of St. John: "I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day; the night cometh, when no man can work." Appropriate music was rendered by the church choir. The casket containing the remains was not opened at the church. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful, almost completely covering the casket. They embraced a cross, an anchor, the triple link bearing the letters "F. L. and T." and a large floral pillow above which was a crescent and from the center hung a star. On the pillow worded in purple flowers, was the word "Rest." The pall bearers were Messrs. John Mark, George P. Bama, Peter Ulrich, Frank Pratt, E. O. Layton and H. Scanlon. The remains were interred in Greenwood cemetery the Odd Fellow burial service being used. It was impressively conducted by Mr. George Bama and Mr. Charles Lytle. A large number of vehicles and people on foot followed the remains to their last resting place.

Armstrong-Wood.

The wedding nuptials of Mr. Ellis Armstrong and Miss Mamie Wood were solemnized last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Wood on West Prairie street. It was a quiet affair, but this did not in the least detract from the happiness and enjoyment of the occasion. The ceremony was performed at half past eight o'clock by Rev. T. I. Conitas, pastor of the First M. E. church. The attendants were Mr. Will Wood, Miss Lida Moore and Master Willie Armstrong and his sister, Miss Irene. Only the relatives and intimate friends of the couple were present. Congratulations followed the ceremony and then came a fine wedding supper. The event was entirely devoid of unnecessary display. The groom is the well known prescription clerk at his brother's—Mr. Clint Armstrong's—drug store. For the present the couple will reside with the bride's parents. The Review heartily wishes them a happy wedded life.
